WARNING

The Morgan County Health Department has had brought to its attention today the case of a mother who is critically ill after having been attended three days ago by a so-called "mid-wife." This woman was found to have a temperature of 104.6 F. Her life is now in jeopardy through ignorance and carelessness.

The state of Kentucky, through its legislature and through the power vested in the State Board of Health, has laid down very definite laws regarding the practice of midwifery. These rules were flagrantly violated in the present case. We wish to call attention particularly to the violation of Rule III, that the midwife "shall not insert her hand in the birth canal for any purpose . . . and Rule IV, which defines the conditions under which a midwife is legally bound to refer the patient to the care of a LICENSED PHYSICIAN. Also, we wish to call attention to Rule X, which states "under no circumstances must the midwife neglect to drop into the eyes of the new-born baby the drops of silver nitrate which is required by law . . ."

Regarding the practice of midwifery, the State Board of Health of Kentucky has taken the following position:

"In places where there are plenty of doctors, midwives are not needed. A doctor is trained to give care to women in childbirth. A midwife has no training. She knows nothing about how to take care of the woman if anything unusual happens; therefore it is best to have a doctor. A midwife should tell this to all women who send for her, and urge the care of a doctor."

The Morgan County Health Department wishes to call the attention of the people of this county to the fact that a great many women die every year as a result of the complications of motherhood, most of which are preventable. We realize that this is one of the counties where the services of a doctor are not always available. For this reason we are attempting to lessen the danger by giving free instructions regarding their duties to all midwives who will make themselves known to us. WE WISH PUBLICLY TO WARN THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY OF THE DANGERS THAT LIE IN THE IGNORANT AND ILLEGAL PRACTICE OF MIDWIFERY BY WOMEN WHO MEAN WELL, BUT DO NOT KNOW THE RULES, AND DO NOT KNOW THEIR OWN LIMITATIONS.

We urge that all intelligent women practicing midwifery shall come to us and learn the rules, thus lessening the chance of letting death into the homes they are trying to serve. Wallace Byrd, M.D., Director, Morgan County Health Department.

A summer wedding just recently announced is that of Miss Lorine Collinsworth to Carl Elam, which took place July 27, 1938, officiated by John Helton.

There will be but the one preaching service. Everybody welcome.

HAMILTON—WHEELER

Miss Rebecca Hamilton of Relief became the bride of Dewey Wheeler of here, in a quiet ceremony performed at Van Lear, Saturday, August 27. The ceremony was performed the Rev. Roscoe Ramey, Baptist minister of Van Lear.

The groom, with his father, operates a filling station on the corner of Main and Court Streets. The couple are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wheeler at present.

Their wide circle of friends wish for them an enjoyable life together.

SELFISHNESS THE PROBLEM

Most of the troubles that confront the world and many of those that worry individuals can be explained in a word of eleven letters—selfishness.

To elucidate this thought, let us consider a single individual, who is entirely interested in what he can get. He grabs what he wants to satisfy his ambition, appetite and desires. He takes no thought of other people and their rights. He is unconcerned with the fate of other human beings. Life, to him, is completely successful when he completely gratifies his own ends. What would you think of such a man? And what kind of a world would you expect if every man were of this type?

Take, for example, a family group. Here we have the fundamental organization of society. Let us assume that each member of the family—father, mother and all the children—are concerned solely with their selfish ends. Each is determined to get what is coming to him or her without any thought of the other members of the group. How long do you think such a family group would continue and what kind of life would they lead as the family continued to operate?

The observations in regard to individuals and family groups equally individuals and family groups apply equally to the other organizations and institutions of human society. It is true in reference to towns and cities, counties and states, and nations, as well. It is obvious, in theory, when we reflect upon the entire world.

As an individual, you control the life of only one person. You can direct yourself and your relationship to other people. You can make one useful member of human society if you are willing to give up some of the selfishness that makes human cooperation impossible. Whether you decide or intend to do so is a personal problem with you. The answer that you make measures the extent of your contribution to civilization.

PACK HORSE LIBRARY

During the month of September, the WPA Pack Horse Library here received several donations which have been greatly appreciated. Akron, Ohio, Public Library sent 126 books; Mrs. Ed Elam of Wells Hill donated 1 book; Charles Ray Wells 2 books; and Misses Florence and Josephine McGuire 3 books; Roscoe Brong and Margaret Brong gave a nice selection of magazines and religious literature; Lillian Wells and Mrs. Byers also donated magazines, which we are always glad to receive.

Every one has shown great interest in the work. We have been mending, cleaning and covering books this month with new material sent us by the WPA. Margaret Brong and the Licking Valley Courier have been very helpful in giving donations of wrapping paper for use in covering the books. Everyone is welcome to visit the library at anytime to borrow books or magazines.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Beware of fair-weather friends; they are not worth having around.

It is our candid opinion that much time is lost in making public speeches.

West Liberty can take pride in its climate. It is probably our best asset.

Intelligence test: In what month do the Hunter's and Harvest moons appear?

If the truth ever becomes general information, it will surprise a lot of people.

Even your enemy can sometimes speak the truth, and it continues to be the truth.

What a world! Waiting for Hitler to let it know whether there will be peace.

Moral: You can't please everybody any time, and you can't please anybody all the time.

It's very hard, some times, to find an excuse for not doing something that you want to do.

Sometimes, for various reasons, a man remembers something without letting anybody know.

If and when Hitler attacks Czechoslovakia, you may be certain that it will be in "self-defense."

There are many people who think you are a fine citizen until you happen to disagree with them.

There are occasions when individuals take themselves so seriously that they really become ridiculous.

We hasten to report that it won't be long according to the calendar before the summer will be over.

The intellectual curiosity of some folk goes only far enough to make them want to know that they are correct.

Children sometimes surprise their parents with their intelligence, and occasionally, parents surprise their children.

Confidentially, whether you read this paragraph or not, makes little difference to us; we had to write it anyway.

Those who are receiving the cash from the Government seldom worry about the budget being balanced or unbalanced.

Ancient customs and old opinions should be respected but not worshipped. Everything will be changed if we wait long enough.

Speaking about balancing the family budget: Have you ever tried the intelligent and persistent use of your time on your job?

Everybody agrees that good people should run the earth; the fighting begins when we try to determine who are the "good people."

Advertising is recognized as one of the modern factors in making profitable sales. It works in West Liberty as well as in other places.

When two people, or two factions, have made up their minds to hate each other, there is very little that any body can do for either group.

When somebody tries to tell you what is going to happen in the future, ask them a few questions and see if they know much about what has happened in the past.

When the day comes that the voters of the United States cast their ballots according to principles and not on the basis of personalities, we hope somebody will wake us up.

Workers whose sole interest in jobs is to put in the necessary hours to draw the weekly pay checks will one day find it hard to have the assurance of a pay check.

New Residence

Jas. F. Wheeler has just completed a four room house just out of town on the Custer Jones farm. He is now starting another house on the same farm next to town which he and his family expect to occupy when completed.

Bernice Little visited her family at Wells Station this week.

GIRL SCOUTS AND GARBAGE

Everybody agrees that it is a sin and a shame the way garbage is left to accumulate around this town. But that is as far as it goes. Like Mark Twain said of the weather: "Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it."

It seems that as for the garbage, the Girl Scouts think differently. Something can be done about it. They have arranged with a man who is willing to haul the garbage away, at ten cents a week per patron, or something like that. They are going to sell garbage removal tickets to all the worthy citizens of our town, thus solving the difficult problem of making collections for this service.

More power to the Girl Scouts. The Health Department has nothing but praise for a move of this kind. Garbage is unsightly and offensive, and if left to accumulate too long it furnishes breeding places for flies and mosquitoes. In any case our civic pride should teach us to keep our city clean. Our city is our home. Let us all help clean up and be boosters!

FARMERS' COLUMN

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

A high-grade sow owned by Jack Darnall, of Benton, gave birth recently to 18 pigs. This is the sow's third litter and the largest. All of the pigs lived except one that had to be killed because it was injured by the mother.

Using plans drawn by Miss Ida Hagman, home management specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture, Mrs. S. J. Catterfield, Caldwell County, remodeled her kitchen with only a little outside help. The cost was a few dollars.

Graves County homemakers cleared $42 by serving a dinner for the Farm Bureau. The menu was planned by the county advisory council, and all of the clubs participated. The money will be spent for county activities.

A combination of charcoal and coke gave the best results in keeping tobacco from house-burning, it was found by Monroe County farmers. Practically every device was used in the attempt to stop or stave off burning.

Woodford County women taking their "vacation" at homemakers camp enjoyed most of all making brightly-colored whisk brooms, and chamomile gloves. They also reported that they liked learning the folk songs of many countries.

When dug before the heavy rains of mid-summer, Wolfe County farmers who planted seed harvested 175 to 250 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Losses were heavy where the potatoes remained in the ground through several rains.

HORSE DISEASE

A disease among horses commonly known as sleeping sickness, which has been moving eastward across the United States, is now prevalent in Illinois and Missouri, according to information which the Horse and Mule Association of America sent to the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The disease is thought to be spread principally by mosquitoes, although flies and other biting insects also probably carry it. Twenty-five to 30 percent of the afflicted horses have died in States where the disease is prevalent. The chief control to date consists of protecting horses from mosquitoes and flies by keeping them in the barn and spraying the animals and their quarters.

Symptoms of the disease are dullness, sluggishness and drowsiness, with the eyes tending to close. The animal also shows inability to control its legs, and stumbles about as though blind. It may try to sit down, carrying most of its weight on the hind legs.

Horse owners are advised to call a veterinarian, if these symptoms are observed. Until the veterinarian arrives, give the animal cool, fresh water. Get the horse in the shade, in a stall or pen where it cannot hurt itself after it gets down. Feed little grain, but instead green corn stalks, cut fresh at each feeding with the ears removed.

Since paralysis of the throat often follows in 24 to 36 hours, it is important to have the animal drink as much water as possible before it becomes unable to swallow.

QUICKSAND FAIR

With good crops in most of Eastern Kentucky this year, the annual Robinson Harvest Festival at the Experiment Substation at Quicksand, Breathitt County, September 29-30, will bring out one of the best displays of farm and home products ever seen in the eastern counties, according to Roger Jones, superintendent. Most of the eastern counties of the state will be represented in the exhibits and in many of the events connected with the festival. The displays of garden products and the exhibits of field crops, fruits, flowers, baked and canned foods, house furnishings and home-made articles are expected to be among the best ever seen at this fair and festival.

One division will be devoted entirely to 4-H club work. A 4-H club singing and speaking program will be followed by a club parade in which several hundred farm boys and girls and their parents will participate.

The principal address of the festival this year will be delivered by Dr. Thomas P. Cooper, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky. As in former years, ballad singing will be a feature of the festival.

WASHINGTON NOTES

FOREIGN TRADE
Exports from the United States for the first seven months of 1938 were valued at $1,818,367,000. This compares with $1,804,747,000 for the same period of the previous year. Exports for the first seven months of this year were $1,101,846,000, compared with $1,948,856,000 in the same period of 1937.

NEW TAXES

Administration officials, particularly those in the Treasury Department, are studying proposed tax legislation but it is extremely unlikely that any recommendations will be made before December or January. Business developments are being closely watched to determine if Government revenue will increase. In August, there was a small gain over last year, but expenditures are continuing at a much higher rate. The cash balance in the Treasury on August 30th was $1,622,576,642. This would ordinarily be a strong position but in view of uncertain political conditions abroad and the mounting relief expenditures at home, it will probably be augmented by borrowings.

ARBITRATOR

Ecuador has expressed the wish that President Roosevelt settle disputed points in her boundary dispute with Peru. Both countries have delegations conferring in Washington, but some difficulty is being experienced in effecting a complete agreement.

WAR AND POWER

The quiet mobilization of resources, designed to protect the United States from any attack, includes a study of the country's electric power distribution facilities. It is known that many important cities, including New York, Baltimore and Washington, do not have adequate reserve transmission lines, and that, if local resources are damaged, will be without adequate means of power. A special committee is working on a program to assure a flow of power necessary to the protection of essential war materials and the maintenance of normal civil operations in key cities. The provisions to be made will be strictly based on military necessity rather than political and economic reasons.

ATLANTIC SQUADRON

Considerable speculation followed the formation of a temporary Atlantic squadron, which will consist of seven of our latest and best cruisers. All of them are 10,000-ton vessels, with more than 32-knot speed, carrying main batteries of fifteen 6-inch guns. The cruisers will be accompanied by seven destroyers, all new and modern in design. In addition to this squadron, the Navy has on the Atlantic Coast a training squadron of battleships, including the New York, Texas, Wyoming and Arkansas, and sixteen old destroyers. The Arkansas is over-age, the New York and Texas will be over-age in 1940, and the Wyoming has been demilitarized.

GOITER—IODIZED SALT

Over at Relief School last week we found one out of four school children had a definite enlargement of the thyroid gland, which lies in the lower part of the neck in front, just below the "Adam's Apple." Such an enlargement is called a "goiter." This particular kind of goiter, known as the simple, or smooth goiter, does not cause people to be nervous, as do some of the other kinds. But it is unsightly, and isn't the way boys and girls are supposed to be. Sometimes a large goiter grows all downward, into the chest, and presses upon the windpipe, making breathing difficult.

Why should there be so many goiters in this county, especially in the eastern part of it? You would never guess the answer (unless you knew!) Ask Miss Noble, the county health nurse how much goiter she used to see in Breathitt County. But around Lexington, I am told, goiters are rarely seen.

Here is the reason: In certain valleys here in the hill country there is practically no iodine in the soil—none in the water, none in the vegetables that grow on this soil.

In order to produce its secretion, "Thyroxin" the thyroid gland has to have iodine. Thyroxin contains iodine. The thyroid gland trying to make thyroxin without iodine is like the poor Israelites trying to make bricks for Pharaoh without straw. It just makes the work twice as hard. Working overtime, that way, trying to do the impossible, the thyroid gland becomes enlarged, and that is what we mean when we speak of a "goiter" of the kind seen most commonly around here.

Now I can't tell you any remedy that will make these enlarged thyroid glands shrink back to their normal size. But it is very simple to keep from having any more of this goiter trouble. Simply insist on buying not just salt, but iodized salt, which contains just enough of iodine salt to meet the body needs. If you mothers and dads that buy the groceries will just forget that there is any other kind of salt but "iodized salt" you won't have any more of this sort of goiter developing among your children.—Dr. Wallace Byrd, Director Morgan County Health Dept.

STICK HORSES

A few days ago I was sitting in a parked car on a fashionable street waiting for a friend. While I was pondering on how rapidly things have changed within the last few decades, two small children came riding by on stick horses. I was rudely shaken from my dream of old times, for those youngsters showed me that things are not so different after all. Automobiles have become as common as farm wagons used to be, aeroplanes pass over without causing us to look up from our work or play, but the discredited horse, bereft of the glory that was once his own, lingers on in play horses, a species of poetic justice that is rarely equaled.

In old Fidelity neighborhood we had stick horses galore. Tobacco sticks make the best ones, for they are usually of hickory and can stand rough treatment. At one time the little girl who played with me decided that we should have a lively stable for our various horses. We took some limbs and converted a stump into a stable that my youngster might have been proud of. Each horse in our stable had to be taken out and put through his paces; each one had a decided personality. Dainty broomstick horses had gait that suited their fine polish and bright colors. Tobacco-stick horses could jump and gallop and run, like half-tamed animals. Sometimes we were attached to a mere crooked limb that became for us a steed of many gait. I little childish imagination was all that was necessary to transform a few unsightly sticks into a stock farm with prize-winners.

When we went to drive up the cows or to run other errands, we rode our horses. We ran races down the paths or dusty roads; our nags shied at imaginary goblins and often threw us rather violently in the dust or grass. Even big boys sometimes joined us and helped us break in especially wild horses. Probably the best part of it all was to get two big boys to stage a horse race. It took an enormous amount of urging by "giddaps" and switches to get the winner across the line. Sometimes the jockey was so used up that his tongue would be fairly hanging out of his mouth when the race was over.

As is too true in actual races attended by grown-up children, we sometimes had an infringement of the rules and a fight or stiff quarrel as a result. Through the years we became quite attached to the sticks that we had endowed with life. We rode some of them so long that we ground off several inches of them against the sand and gravel. For whole weeks and months these inanimate sticks had all the elements of romance, a romance that somehow does not entirely disappear with the years.—Kentucky Folklore Series.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The third grade pupils entertained 43 guests at an ice cream party in the High School Auditorium, Saturday afternoon, from 2 till 5 p.m., September 17.

The menu consisted of ice cream, cake, sandwiches, lemonade, candy, and cup cakes, which were sold at the counter.

The net proceeds amounted to $420. This will be used to buy a pencil sharpener and books for the room library.

Visitors in the third grade room this week were: Mrs. Winfred Carpenter, Mrs. Floyd Arnett and Mrs. Drexel Moore.

The third grade wishes to thank Mrs. Floyd Arnett for eight nice new books for their room library and Mrs. Amelia Kendall for some lovely illustrations for the bulletin board. Harold Rose is absent this week after a tonsil operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sebastian and family of Cannel City recently moved into one of the Bay's houses in town. Mr. Sebastian is now working in Breathitt County.

SCHOOL TRIP TO THE ZOO

The clocks began to alarm as early as twelve and from then until three and four, many sleepy eyes began to open and children began to tumble out of bed ready and anxious to start on the trip. The school bus was scheduled to leave Pleasant Run at 5:30 Friday morning. When the crowd heard the school bus coming they were wide awake and ready to start even though they had walked four and five miles.

The bus left on time. We were crowded but everyone was so anxious to go they didn't notice it until they started back. We went through West Liberty before many people were out of bed. As we were getting near Mt. Sterling, we had a "blow out," and no spare tire. We rode on to the garage, and while the driver was having a new tire put on the bus the larger girls and a few of the boys went to the 5 and 10 cent store. Some had their pictures taken. Finally the bus was fixed. We went on to Winchester and on through the blue grass; saw the Feeble-minded Institution at Lexington.

Everyone fixed a nice lunch to take with them. Since everybody had eaten breakfast so early they were ready to eat dinner when we got to the Half Way House between Lexington and Cincinnati. Every one spread their lunch and enjoyed it very much. After a little rest we started on with the next stop at the Zoo in Cincinnati. When we reached the city the children's eyes were attracted by the tall Empire Building. They were seeing the real thing instead of looking at pictures.

The majority of the children had never been farther than Pleasant Run, a few had been to West Liberty, so you can imagine what an experience it was for the children. Think of the many things some of the children saw on this trip that they had never seen before.

The bus driver, Bernard Brown, took us through the main part of Cincinnati. Finally we got to the Zoo. Every one had a lot of fun watching the many different kinds of animals. We saw the lions, elephants, giraffes and several other animals eating. The children liked to watch the monkeys best of all. After every one saw all the animals they were ready to start home.

We came back down the river road and saw Coney Island. We stopped at New Richmond and Abertine, Ohio, in search of water-mellons, but were unable to find any at these two places. These stops gave us a chance to rest a few minutes and get something to eat. As we came down the river and crossed the bridge at Maysville, we saw steam boats, motor boats, trains, and the water marks on some of the old buildings as a result of the flood last year.

By the time we got to Morehead every one was sleepy, but when the bus stopped at a garage to get some gas we saw eleven big water-mellons. The crowd put in enough money to buy the mellons. There was one mellon to be divided between each four and five people. While we were all enjoying our mellons who should we see but Mrs. Ova Haney and Mrs. Frank Laughlin driving around the corner. They stopped and ate a piece of mellon with us. Every one had all they could eat and then some.

It was late when we got home and we were all tired. I think the entire group felt their trip had been worthwhile. The children were anxious to discuss all the interesting things they saw and tell the children that didn't get to go about the nice trip they had, Monday morning at school. I feel sure the children learned more on this trip than they would have a week of studying at school. I hope we will be able to make another trip before school is out.

NURSERY SCHOOL DAY

We hear much talk these days about nursery schools and the training of pre-school age children. Too often the name of "nursery school" is given to any place where little children may stay and play together. This has confused people. Many are asking, "What really is a nursery school?" Friday, September 23, will be nursery school day in the West Liberty unit. We invite you to come and visit us on that day.

MORGAN COUNTY SCHOOL PAGE

(Under Auspices of Ova O. Haney, County Supt.)

A School Program for All Children

To the People of Morgan County:

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the splendid spirit of cooperation and loyalty that they have shown in helping to make for the children of this county a wide awake school system.

You may ask any patron and they will readily agree with you that the children of their home and of the county are the most precious asset and cherished thing that they have and you may wonder sometimes why they let many things bar their way to a better educational opportunity when such a precious thing is involved. It is a very different matter for a board of education to set up, launch or build an ideal program because of factional strife, coal, water, power, etc. We hear very much discussion about the wearing away of hillsides, about soil erosion, and the neglected acres of this type, but for the last thirty years of education in Morgan County we notice that this spot or ground are the acres that have been set aside for the education of the childhood of this county. These are the most important of all the neglected acres and we could mention truthfully the neglected acres, because it appears that in the past the school houses were constructed on the left over acres or such sites of ground that no one had any other use for. Buildings were built in the woods, beside the branch without regard to playground or proper lighting. If their is anything in a community that should be worshiped or cherished it is the school house and the grounds where your children must spend their early childhood. On these neglected acres good or bad habits are formed, good or bad health is established, like or dislike for school is instilled in them and in the schools of the county lie the future of Morgan County and the happiness of fathers and mothers. I fear that too much of the responsibility of adequate educational opportunities over all of the county has been shifted too much to the board of education and teachers. Without the cooperative spirit and active support of all patrons or the county it is practically impossible to lay out and carry through a school program that is efficient and that will serve the poor and the better-to-do alike.

When you go to judge a good farmer you will first visit the farm, you will probably check on the amount of tools and equipment he has on hand, the fencing, the number of stock he has and how he rotates his crops and the number of houses. In judging as to whether a school program has progressed we must take into consideration the improvement of the buildings and equipment, the increased qualification of the teachers, the increased enrollment and the educational spirit prevailing throughout the county for education. The Morgan County Board of Education in the last four years are beginning to see some sure signs of the progress in the Morgan County schools. In 1934 we had less than 300 pupils enrolled in high school. Now we have approximately 700. We have managed through Federal Aid to construct school buildings in the center, on the North, East and Western parts of the county to serve the children. We have constructed quite a few two-room buildings and a four-room building. We plan to construct more buildings just as soon as diligent financial planning will permit. We have retired $10,000. of the $25,000. indebtedness incurred in the construction of new buildings and paid off $10,000. of the old indebtedness and hope in 1942 to equip all of the buildings in the county with new furniture and equipment and construct sanitary toilets for all of them and to build several new buildings in places where they will have adequate playground and to pay off the indebtedness.

The operation of a school program without planning is just like a drifting ship that is headed no where. In the meantime we expect good roads to be extended and thereby extending our transportation system to every young boy and girl living within the limit of these transportation routes. There appears to have been an increased interest in education this year judging from the fact that we have the highest enrollment in the history of this county. We cordially invite every patron of the county to attend Morgan County's biggest and greatest annual event, the School and Agriculture Fair. We are sure that you will enjoy this day, meeting old friends, seeing the performances, and exchanging ideas.

Ova O. HANEY, Superintendent, Morgan County Schools.

M. C. H. S. BAND

On Thursday of last week the high school met in the auditorium during free-activity period. Mr. Haney gave a brief talk and then introduced the new band director, Carl Reeves.

Mr. Reeves believes that we can have a fine band and that it will be able to play during the coming basketball season.

He took the names of those interested in playing in the band. Approximately half of the school appeared to be interested. Each member will have to furnish his own instrument.

On Friday of last week Mr. Reeves organized a Glee Club which plans to sing on various programs. We believe that with Mr. Reeves as director the Glee Club and the band will be a success.

SPORTS NEWS

Coach Wendell Nickell, formerly of Morgan County High School brought his Cannel City softball team to West Liberty Friday to meet the local team. Cannel City scored in the first inning to get off to a good start but were soon passed as West Liberty scored two runs in their half of the second. The lead then moved back and forth until West Liberty put the game on ice with a three-run rally in the 5th. The final score was 7-4 in favor of West Liberty. The battery for Cannel City was Davis and Walters. For West Liberty Fugittie and Haney worked on the mound with R. Little behind the bat.

Chapel Program

The entire school is indebted to Rev. Gariott, minister of the Methodist church for his inspiring talk delivered during our Chapel program Friday. He not only gave us some excellent advice but pledged himself to support our school. We are all delighted that Rev. Gariott will be with us during the coming year.

Pie Supper

There will be a pie supper at the Pekin school, Friday night, September 23. There will be string music. Every one is invited. WOODFORD CECIL, Teacher.

M. C. H. S. PROGRESSES

I feel sure that all the students and faculty of M. C. H. S. will agree that our school is making great strides in progress, and we wish to extend our sincere thanks to those who are making this progress possible.

It is an inspiration to see the four school buses drive up before the building and unload their eager passengers. By the addition of three school buses, the enrollment of M. C. H. S. has increased nearly one hundred.

The science department and the agriculture department have great plans for this year.

We feel sure that with Mr. Burton as coach and with the team we have that our school will win many basketball games this year. Another thing of interest to our school and also 'our community is the band which every one will have the pleasure of hearing and seeing in the near future.

We also have a Glee Club which will sing on various programs. It is a surprise how interested the students are in music and we feel that it is time these students have an opportunity to disclose their musical ability.

We are proud of our faculty and student body who possess a great deal of school spirit and we feel sure that with the cooperation of all the year 1938-39 will be the most successful year in the life of Morgan County High School.—DELPHIA MCCLURE

Coach Carl Burton, with a patched up line up, left Saturday afternoon to see if he could stop Salsersville High School. The West Liberty team again proved their mettle as they defeated Salsersville 4-2. Haney and Lykins went the way for West Liberty. Howard and Patrick worked on the mound and behind the plate for Salsersville.

VANCE FORK SCHOOL

Friday, Sept. 10.—The second month of our school ended today, with the following pupils on the honor roll for perfect attendance: May Lacy, Gladys Stacy, Katherine Roop, Christina Vance, Wilma Roop, Lillian Vance, Venice Vance, Mary Ellen Vance, Donald Helton, David Reed, Earl Gray Helton, J. C. Vance and Jackie Vance.

Our P. T. A. meeting held on Friday, September 2, was the greatest meeting in the history of our school. The parents gave us a nice program and served cookies at the close of the meeting. They plan another program for October 7, and they have invited our honorable, Supt., Ova O. Haney, to be present and give us a talk at 1:00 p.m.

With our pie supper funds we bought a pencil sharpener, 2 gallon inside paint, school dictionary, basket ball outfit, etc. We plan further improvements soon.

We have organized two teams: the Boones, under the leadership of Myrtle Roupe and the Penns, under the leadership of May Lacy. We are planning on making caps soon to show which side we are on. The Penns have a slight lead on the Boones at this time. We plan on going to the school fair at West Liberty in October.

We owe our present success to our teacher, Harrison Holliday, and our parents, of whom we are all proud.—MYRTLE ROUPE, president, and MAY LACY, vice president of our school.

MAYTOWN SCHOOL NEWS

We have enrolled twenty-eight in our school this year, but one little first grade boy entered Ezel school when it opened leaving us now with twenty-seven pupils.

We have our window lights now and have been decorating our room. A man in the community fixed our well so we don't have to carry water from a distance. We also have our floor oiled.

Every Thursday morning two missionaries visit us and spend thirty minutes with us. They tell us stories which we enjoy very much, and they have also given us some beautiful Bible pictures which we have put up in our room.

We were very glad to have the county health nurse, doctor, and our helping teacher to visit us. We feel that they are very helpful to us.

Those who were on the honor roll the second month were: 8th grade: Louise Maxey 7th grade: Pauline Prater 6th grade: Betty Maxey 5th grade: Maggie Cornett, Paul Gilly, Allene Rudd and Daisy Taulbe.

The following pupils were present every day of the second school month: Dorothy Ward, Corine Stamper, Don Herbert Gibson, Gladys Denniston, Calvin Noe, David Elam, Lennie Denniston and Harlan Denniston. There will probably be many that will attend every day of this month as a lot of the sickness seems to have disappeared since the health doctor and nurse have been visiting our school. Many have had to be absent in order to help take care of the tobacco crop.

We have oiled our floor with crankcase oil and much of the dust is absent now. WOODFORD CECIL, Teacher.

Lewisburg High School (Mason County) won first prize and trophy and will represent Kentucky at the Kansas City Royal in judging fat Stock at Kansas City, Mo., on October 19 to 21. Boaz High School won in judging dairy cattle and will also represent Kentucky at the Kansas City Royal in judging dairy cattle.

The guests were all asked to register at the desk on entering, which showed the number present, besides NYA workers, was forty-five.

The seating and entertainment took place in the large reception hall.

Herman Hubbard of Paintsville was an honor guest. He was cooperative in entering all the games and after inspecting the residence, complimented the supervisors and workers on a well managed project.

Music was provided by the Wells String Band and tasty refreshments of iced tea and raisin cookies were served to all.

The many attractive and useful gifts received have been put to good use and this NYA project wishes to thank all who cooperated in making this social event a success.
